Gloucestershire Business Groups Forum

The Association of Gloucestershire Business Groups has been working for the last three years to support, advise and promote Business Groups that meet across Gloucestershire. For many Micro businesses and sole traders, especially based in the areas of the county that are away from the large towns, working can be a very solitary affair. Finding support from other business people is an important support factor in motivation and sharing of ideas.

Duncan Tincello

Duncan runs his own business, Oratos Consulting, building on a career in consulting, project management and as a Chartered Engineer with a strong record of building successful IT systems. He has been working with the Association of Gloucestershire Business Groups (AGBG) to help the team build a strong support network for business groups across the county.
